

B. Riley Farber is pleased to announce a strategic sponsorship with the Young Presidents' Organization (YPO) Toronto Chapter. YPO Toronto is one of 16 Canadian chapters within the YPO community—a global platform for chief executives to engage, learn, and grow.

This sponsorship is part of Farber's ongoing commitment to support organizations that are making a difference in the Canadian business community—and beyond. As part of the sponsorship, B. Riley Farber will be supporting YPO Toronto's various unique chapter engagement and educational events.

Josh Singer, YPO Toronto member and Sponsorship Officer explains, "The power of YPO is created from a foundation of trust amongst our members; working with B. Riley Farber over the past few years, numerous members have been impressed by the value created through Farber's collaborative approach. This sponsorship will provide a significant boost to YPO Toronto's presence and impact—leading to enhanced chapter events and more robust programming for our members."

Ian Brenner, a Partner at Farber, expands, "We're all about developing meaningful relationships and driving collaboration at Farber; this is how we create sustainable value for our clients. This is an opportunity to increase our engagement and work more closely with a dynamic organization such as YPO—it's a win-win situation."

About YPO
