Profile overview

As co-founder of three financial services companies, and with over 20 years of experience, Vincent has effectively managed to bridge the gap between financial advisory and technology. He deals with a broad range of clients, including board of trustees of pension funds, executives of large corporations, high net worth families, and private clients. Vincent, a qualified Actuary, started his career in South Africa in 1996. After working in the UK for two years he co-managed one of the first hedge funds in South Africa. During this time, he created and implemented investment strategies for some of South Africa's largest pension funds.
